

- Street will accommodate transit, bicyclists and pedestrians.
- In near term: stripes will buffer the bike lanes.
- In long term: automobile access will be restricted and a transit-and bike-only street with a separated two-way bicycle lane will be established on the west side of the street.

